Knowledge Tshabalala - 55456367

Business Analyst

Who Is This Guy?

I am a Second year IT Student at the North-West University, working towards being a software developer. A person with a strong enthusiasm for cars, from body design to engine power and performance. I enjoy learning about upcoming models and what makes each car unique Football is more an art than a sport to me, mostly because it seamlessly integrates teamwork and competitiveness. Above all this I am also a huge fan of music mostly jazz and RnB but overall, I listen to all types of sounds.

I believe from all I have said above, one can deduce that I'm very passionate and tend to overfocus on things that make my blood boil. Oh, and I also have a bit of a temper when pushed to a certain point.

My Github – https://github.com/TshabalalaWandile

Reflection

Going about creating my infographic was a bit difficult for me as I generally find it hard to express myself. I had to carefully think about how to visually and briefly describe who I am. I focused on key areas of me as a person instead of writing long paragraphs. I chose to highlight my passion for music, cars and football all because I think these can help individuals know what kind of person I am. It was a bit difficult summarising so it could fit in the infographic and remain meaningful and insightful. This was actually helpful to me as it helped me to better understand how to express myself, talk about my identity and how visual cues (logo) can speak volumes.